Towards Semantic Analysis of Spoken Queries

We describe an approach to semantic analysis of spoken queries to an internet informtion retrieval engine. A user will be enabled to expresss his or her requests by the natural language. Such approach can surpass systems that use just keywords to expres the query.

15.10.2007   Moskva